JOLUME XXXVIII.

IRONTON, MISSOURI. THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 2, 1905.

Announcement.

We are authorized to announce O. J. BUFORD as a candidate for Commissioner of Public Schools of Iron county, subject to the action of the voters at the school election April 4th.

Miss Lela O'Neal entertained a number of her friends last Monday evening and all present had a very pleasant time. Miss Effe Holloman was the guest of honor. It is stated that Dr. R. W. Baird is arranging to open a drug store in Arcadia, in the building form-erly used as a post-office, across the street from Whitworth's store.

The County Commissioner is working on the staff of the REGIS-TER this week, which is accounted for by the absence of Mr. Ake and his son, who are in the city on matrimonial business.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Ironton Baptist Church will give an oyster supper in the basement of the new church building, Thursday evening, February 9th. A general invitation is extended.

Alfred Hale, Esq., of Belleview, some time ago sold his farm to David Silvey for $3500. Mr. Silvey is now on the farm and will here-after be a resident of Iron county. Mr. Hale has taken up his resi-dence in "Cross Roads." The entire town of Iron Mountain with 17,000 acres of land has been bought by a Chicago syndi-cate, which will establish a model stock farm there. The price paid was $100,000. There are 219 houses in the town.—Farmington Times.

Judge Williams has appointed C. T. Jarvis as official court stenographer. This is a good appointment, as Claude is thoroughly acquainted with the work, having served in that capacity for a num-ber of years.—Greenville Journal.

I like the individual, who, overflowing with venom, interjects between his expectorations thereof, the sweetest exhortations to Christian love and fraternal unity. His example is edifying and instructive. Yes, we have him with us.

A law establishing a Federal Court for Southeast Missouri was passed by the United States Sen-ate last week. As the bill has already been passed by the House all that is needed for it to become a law is the President's signature.

Among the "Missouri New Cor-porations" in Saturday's Globe-Democrat I find the following: "South Hungarian Colonization and Land Company of St. Louis; $50,000, all paid. Incorporators, Solymosy Oliver, Frank Mullin, J. L. Conway, William Conway, Joseph Hanna and D. A. Jilly."

On last Thursday one of Henderson & Shelton's livery teams, while left standing for a few moments in front of their stable, took a notion to move on. They went through Arcadia and Russellville, finally returning to the barn, and, remarkable to relate, everything was intact with the exception of a couple of lap robes.

The residence of Charley W. White of Lesterville came near being consumed by fire on Tuesday, and but for the timely arrival of the bucket brigade, would have done so. As it was, the entire roof was torn away in order to save the building and contents. People cannot be too careful about stoves, fires, etc.—Reynolds Outlook.

I learn that Mr. J. N. Tims, formerly of this county, but now a resident of Arkansas, has pur-chased the Dike (the old Lotz) farm, and will soon be neighbor to us again. The purchase price is said to be $4500, and the place is worth every cent of it. Mr. Tims is a good man in every sense of the word, and the REGISTER extends to him a cordial welcome to his old "stamping-ground."

I see that some person in Arcadia repudiates with indignation the proposed establishment of a saloon and "bucket shop" in that town. Happily, however, for the entertainment and diverson of the the week.

Report reaches us that Wm.
Steffens of Graniteville is very seriously sick. We are earnestly in hopes to soon hear of his complete.

REGISTER inadvertently failed to make mention of the dedication exercises of the new Baptist church, which occurred January 8th. The services were interesting and impressive and a colonid correct was delivered by Rev. J. C. Armstrong of St. Louis. Our Baptist friends are to be congratulated on having one of the handsomest and most conveniently arranged church houses in the southern part of the State.

The town cow is an appurtenance seemingly hard to be rid of. Roanoke, Virginia, with 700 of her in question, lately took from them the freedom of the city; but only after two elections and a lawsuit. Though they finally had to go, they did not go at once and stood very much upon the order of their going. Here in Ironton the horse

For two weeks, during the late "cold snap," the ley sidewalks made pedestrianism a snare to the unwary and a burden to all. I was fortunate enough to not measure my length upon the frozen ground, but perforce indulged in some pedal exhibitions wholly unsuited to the dignity of my years. Here and there the tension was relieved by a friendly coating of ashes spread through the care of some true Christian. I do not know of a better method of evincing one's humanity to man, and regret that to refer to it is to note the exception rather than the rule.

Mr. White is now seventy-five years old, but is in the full vigor of his intellectual faculties, and looks as if he might be good for ten years' service yet. He is now pastor of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church at Gibson .- Dunklin Democrat.

I hear of the probable coming to the Valley this summer, for "summer outing," of a society composed of young ladies in the city who are bread-winners for thempurchase. The REGISTER hopes their quest may not be in vain, but that they may be enabled to enjoy the pure air and beautiful scenery of this lovely Valley dur-ing the time that tries the souls of relaxation from the strenuosity of the reign of Sirius.

The most crying need of this locality is a commodious, modern summer hotel. Nature has furn-ished all the outside accessories to such an institution—pure water, health-giving air and diversified scenery. There are a dozen lo-cations in the Valley suited to the purpose. The old hotel grounds in Arcadia, the Soc Newman place, west of town, the ample spread of table-land on Shepherd Mountain, the Goulding park and premises the Emerson place—any one of these could be made to induce summer visitors and retain them from year to year. If ever the hand of Nature labeled a locality to its purpose, she has designated selves and those dependent upon the Arcadia Valley as a refuge for their exertions. They will come the city denizen flying the heats if suitable quarters and grounds of summer and the malaria-can be obtained, either by rent or stricken victim of less favored regions. Every summer the limited accommodations we have are taxed to the utmost and the cry is for their enlargement. I suppose scenery of this lovely Valley during the time that tries the souls of men and women seeking rest and this line hastened just a little.
